IS THIS CLASS FOR YOU?

Could you benefit from principles to build peaceful relationships, with help to maintain them into lasting relationships?

Do you see a pattern of relational disorder (active or passive)?

Do you often find yourself disappointed/ cynical/ or frustrated with people saying ("Good people are hard to find")

Have you felt trapped in a cycle with someone with bully like, intimidating, or even addictive behaviors?

Are you ready to break free from spiritual compromise in relationships?

Are you suffering from communication burnout, or superficial communication resisting involvement in deeper relationships?

Have broken relationships, broken promises, broken trust left you in a place of asking why bother , or why me?

Or would you just like to learn some kingdom principles that bring greater understanding, harmony and unconditional love into your relationships?
